ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

"Integrating Art and Craft within built environment"

We humans have desire to decorate our habitats since ages of caves. This creative process creates sense of space within us. Architecture, sculpture, and painting once belonged together in all ancient cultures and civilizations all over the world. It's very recent that art, craft and architecture are considered to be separate from each other.

This is creating a huge gap between the traditional wisdom that exists and the current market trends. Slowly this knowledge bank is getting depleted and hence we, designers can realign the disciplines of arts crafts and architecture in order to bring back glory to the process of creating sense of space. "

This course intends to create awareness and importance of art and crafts in space making amongst teachers and bring out their creative potential.
