Preamble Registration Process

Architecture, today, is one of the most sought after disciplines for graduate studies in India. New schools are coming up and the older ones are upgrading their resources in all respects. The need for knowledgeable and trained faculty in building up of any academic institute cannot be stressed enough. Unlike other graduate courses where faculty has to take qualifying exams to be eligible for a teaching job, schools of architecture mainly source faculty from the pool of practicing professionals who may, or may not, have teaching aptitude. Many times, "What the Teacher is, is more important than what he teaches" (Karl A. Menninger) more so in design, where teaching methodologies are based on one on one interaction in a studio. Though imparting knowledge still remains the core aspect, motivating students to become seekers of knowledge and helping them achieve their true potential assumes greater significance in creative disciplines.

This training program aims at helping schools of architecture build up their most valuable resource, that is the faculty, in areas beyond their core design knowledge and training. It aims at developing an enthusiastic, co-operative and positive attitude amongst faculty, by giving inputs to enhance their teaching competencies. The program is designed to help faculty realize their potential, capabilities and limitations and motivate them to upgrade.
